NUMB. 71.

THE South-Carolina Gazette.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

From Saturday, MAY 31. to Saturday, JUNE 7. 1735.

Paris, March 12.

THE Lord Waldegrave, the Engliſh Ambaſſador, lately arrived from London, brought to the King the Propoſitions agreed to by the Maritime Powers, as Preliminaries of a future Peace. Several Councils have been held on that Subject, but nothing yet concluſive has been done thereon, only the diſpatching Couriers to Madrid and Turin. The 29th the King will review the Regiments of French and Swiſs Guards, which will depart, as they ſay, the 12th of next Month, to join the Army on the Rhine. Several of our Military Gentlemen have quitted the Service to make Room for others.

Vienna Feb. 24 Prince Eugene and Count Konigſeg continue ſtill in daily Conference. Little is talk'd of touching Peace, but all Things preparing for a vigourous War, and for opening the Campaign betimes, both in Germany and Italy. The Generals have taken Meaſures for having much more numerous Armies this Year, and they are both to be at the Head of them at the End of March. The Kingdom of Hungary has offered the Emperor to put on Foot 10,000 regular Forces for the Guard of that Country. The Arreſt of the Count de Hoym, Miniſter of King Auguſtus, has drawn forty other Perſons into the ſame Circumſtances that were render'd ſuſpected in relation to the Party of King Staniſlaus. The States of Bohemia have charged themſelves to ſupply the Army of Italy with 100,000 Quintals of Flour, and a much greater Quantity of Oats. They write from Warſaw, that all Things ſeem favourably diſpoſed for opening the Dyet of Pacification. And from Mecklenburg, that the Caſtle of Schwerin ſurrendred the 10th to the Troops of Execution; and that the Duke Regnant arrived the ſame Day incognito at Wiſmar.

Genoa, Feb. 24. The Van Guard of the Spaniſh Cavalry, compos'd of about 500 Horſe, arriv'd on Sunday laſt from St Pierre d'Arenna in admirable good Condition, and appear to be Troops of the laſt Perfection, whether we conſider the Men, Horſes, or Accoutrements. They defiled Yeſterday along the Walls of this Town, in continuing their March towards La Speria, being at Alurzane, their Rendezvous. The Affairs of Corſica grow ſtill worſe and worſe; the Rebels are Maſters of Balague, which is the beſt Province in the Iſland, and they have burnt the publick Laws and Statutes, intending for the time to come, we ſuppoſe, to govern among themſelves without them.

Vienna, March 4. Count Konigſeg is to depart on Monday next, to return to his Command in Italy, his Baggage being gone before him. General Wutgenau, the new Commandant of Mantua, who had on Thurſday laſt a long Conference with the Emperor himſelf, will alſo depart ſoon for the ſaid Place. Prince Eugene ſets out infallibly the 7th for the Army on the Rhine. The Clergy of Auſtria has furniſh'd the Emperor with a Freegift of 500,000 Florins, and as much is expected from thoſe of Bohemia and Sileſia. The Envoy of Bavaria is every Day in Conference with the Miniſters of the Imperial Court; and 'tis hoped that the Preſence of the Elector of Cologn who is expected at Munich, will contribute a good deal to terminate the Differences ſubſiſting between the Elector of Bavaria and the Emperor. The Negotiations of the Court of Warſaw with the Polanders, Adherents to King Staniſlaus, meet with very little Succeſs, becauſe Potocki perſiſts in having the Command of the Crown Army continued to him, and demands the Payment of Arrears due to his Troops, with three Months Pay Advance. We learn from Sileſia, that the Staniſlaites had attempted ſevetal times to make Invaſions into that Province, but they retired as ſoon as the Alarm was ſounded. They tell us from the Hague with great Aſſurance, that the States General have declared to the Court of England, that if the Allies perſiſt to refuſe the reaſonable Propoſitions of Peace, according to the Plan now offered, they will put themſelves in a Condition to attain that Peace by other Meaſures, conjointly with his Britannick Majeſty, not regarding the Affairs of Poland as dependent on this War.

Berlin, March 12. Beſides the Advantage obtain'd by the Poles over the Saxon Party commanded by General Birckholtz, we hear there has been another little Action at a ſmall Fort or Caſtle, called Karga, upon the River Warta, where there was a Saxon Gariſon, which was forced to ſurrender: Since then the Poles, to the Number of 18 or 20,000 Men, are come to the Banks of the Oder, their deſign being, as 'tis publickly affirmed, to make an Irruption into Luſatia and Saxony; and ſome Advices from the Frontiers ſay, great Numbers of them have actually paſſed that River at Croſſen, a Town belonging to his Pruſſian Majeſty.

Paris, March 19 By a Courier diſpatched from Naples to Don Ferdinand Trevigno, Miniſter of Spain at this Court, we learn, that the 25th paſt Count de Marſillac, Commander of the Spaniſh Troops in the Kingdom of Sicily, and the Prince of Lobcowitz, Governor of the Gariſon of the Citadel of Meſſina, had ſigned Articles of Capitulation for that Place, purſuant to which the Gariſon was to march out with all military Honours, and be conducted to Trieſte, on the ſame Conditions as that of Capua. The Spaniſh General, before ſigning the Articles, ſent them to the King of the Two Sicilies, who was not yet arrived, to have them approved; and 'twas not doubted but the Gariſons of Syracuſa and Trapani, would ſoon follow the Example of the Capital, when the King will be Maſter of the whole Kingdom, without much Bloodſhed; and his Neapolitan Majeſty had wrote to the Duke de Montemar, that having no Occaſion of all the Troops in that Country, he would ſend him a Reinforcement of 10 more Battalions of his beſt Troops making 7000 Men.

They write from Cremona of the 7th Inſtant that the Duke de Montemar, having ſent Advice of the Taking of Meſſina to Marſhal de Broglio, the ſaid Marſhal had cauſed ſeveral Diſcharges to be made of all the Artillery at Modena, and had ordered Rejoicings to be made in all the Quarters of the Army under his Command.

Zullichaw, March 9. The Gariſon of the Caſtle of Carga having obtained an honourable Capitulation of the Poliſh Troops, Troops, marched out the 7th in the Morning, with Drums beating, Colours flying, and conducted by ſome Officers to the Camp of the Duke of Sax Weiſſenfels. The Palatine of Lublin immediately took Poſſeſſion of the ſaid Caſtle, wherein he found a great Quantity of Proviſions. The Poles loſt in this Attack 100 Soldiers and an Officer, beſides the Wounded, among whom is Lieut. Coll. Steinflicht, Brother to the General of that Name, and Coll. Rapp, who are brought hither to be cured. General Steinflicht is alſo come hither, being indiſpoſed by the great Fatigues he has undergone for ſome Time paſt. This Day the Poles quitted the Neighbourhood of Carga, after having done great Damage to the Caſtle, the King's Palace, and the Proteſtant Church there, but did not ſet them on Fire as was feared. They have paſſed the River Obra in three Places, and are marched towards the Oder, being to be ſoon followed by a greater Number of Troops. They give out that they are going to attempt an Invaſion upon Saxony, but 'tis much queſtioned whether they can execute that Deſign, as well on Account of the Difficulty of croſſing the Oder, there being no Bridge over it but at Croſſen, where 'tis likely a Paſſage will not be granted them, as becauſe they cannot avoid being ſurrounded on all Sides.

Dreſden, March 12. We have received no Letters from Warſaw for above eight Days paſt, the Roads being infeſted by the Poles of King Staniſlaus's Party; but thoſe we have received from the Frontiers, and from the Duke of Sax Weiſſenfels's Army, bring a particular Account of what has lately happened in Poland, and deſtroys the falſe Reports which have been ſpread touching the Rencounters between the Palatine of Lublin's Troops and thoſe of the King our Sovereign, containing in Subſtance, 'That the 'Palatine of Lublin, taking Advantage of the Suſpenſion 'of Arms, granted during the Conferences with the Biſhop 'of Cujavia, got an exact Account of the State of our 'Troops in Poland, and finding they were poſted and 'cantoned in ſmall Bodies for their more commodious Sub'ſiſtence, broke off the Conference abruptly, and imme'diately marched with all his Troops, whilſt ours, relying 'on the Negotiations, kept quiet in their Poſts: That 'the Poles run both to the Right and Left like a Torrent, 'falling violently upon all that was in their Way, on their 'March along the Frontiers of Sileſia, and the ſaid Pala'tine not being able to execute his Deſign of penetrating 'into Pruſſia, at laſt fell upon Carga with 3000 Regular 'Troops, ſo that the Saxon Governor who was in the 'Caſtle with a Gariſon of 3 or 400 Men, having ſuſtained 'two Aſſaults, without any Loſs, except one Man, had 'been obliged to capitulate for Want of Ammunition

As the Poles give out that they deſign to penetrate through Sileſia into Saxony, a Body of 4 or 5000 choice Saxon Troops are marched to guard our Frontiers againſt any Surprize.

LONDON, March 15.

They tell us from Vienna of the 9th, that the Emperor accepted the Plan offered for a Pacification the 7th, in a Grand Council held to conſider of it. That Prince Eugene is to ſet out the latter End of this Month for the Rhine, and that they had Apprehenſions there, that the Spaniards intend to block up Trieſte and Fiume, to cut off their Commerce with the Levant, and hinder the tranſporting from thence any Troops to Lombardy.

'Tis adviſed from Vienna of the 2d Inſt. that Count Konigſeg ſet out the Day before, to command the Army in Lombardy; and is to paſs by way of Veniice, to receive the Money for Bills of Exchange remitted thither from England and Portugal; that his Excellency is accompanied by his Lady, and will be ſuddenly followed by the Prince of Hilburghauſen and Baron Wutgenau; and that Prince Eugene's Baggage was ſending away by the Danube for Ulm; but that his Highneſs would not ſet out for the Rhine till towards the End of March.

The Prince Royal of Pruſſia, they ſay at Cleves, is to command the King's Troops on the Rhine, which are to be reinforced to 20,000 Men.

Letters from Warſaw mention, that an Expreſs was arriv'd there, diſpatch'd by the Biſhop of Cujavia, to adviſe the Court of a Letter which that Prelate had receiv'd from the Palatine of Lublin, acquainting him with the taking of General Birckholtz Priſoner, and propoſing to exchange him for the Primate of the Kingdom, and alſo the Exchange of ſome other Officers on both ſides, a Liſt whereof he had inſerted in his Letter; but how that would be accepted at Court was not known.

The 12th Inſt. the Princeſs Sophia Hedwig, Aunt to the King of Denmark, died at Copenhagen.

All the Officers belonging to the Fleet under the Command of Sir John Norris, are ordered to repair imediately on board their reſpective Ships at Portſmouth, Plymouth, Chatham, &c.

Yeſterday the Dutch Ambaſſador received an Expreſs from Holland, with Advice, that the King of France had ſent to acquaint the States General, that he would ſend 20,000 of his Troops to attack their Frontier Towns, if they did not continue an exact Neutrality, during the War between him and the Empire.

PHILADELPHIA, April 17.

We hear from Cheſter County, that laſt Week at a Vendue held there, a Man being unreaſonably abuſive to his Wife upon ſome trifling Occaſion, the Women form'd themſelves into a Court, and order'd him to be apprehended by their Officers and brought to Tryal: Being found guilty he was condemn'd to be duck'd 3 times in a neighbouring Pond, and to have one half cut off, of his Hair and Beard (which it ſeems he wore at full length) and the Sentence was accordingly executed, to the great Diverſion of the Spectators.
